	Tainted by Association: When Proximity or Passivity Become Reputational Risk Executives can find their reputations damaged not because of what they did, but because of what they failed to spot or stop. This panel examines how being “around” problematic behaviour-weak culture, poor leadership, or unchecked bad actors-can be enough to trigger scrutiny from boards, regulators and the market. We’ll explore the impact of active leadership that shapes culture for the better, and the dangers of passive leadership that overlooks warning signs and inadvertently signals tolerance. The panellists will offer practical guidance on accountability, early intervention, documentation, and protecting both personal and organisational credibility. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Elaine Banton – 7BR (UK) - Barrister – employment and discrimination law</li> <li>• Kelly M. 09.30-10.20	Plenary Session
	As We Move Forward: The Headaches Heading for Practitioners The next two years promise no shortage of challenges for in-house teams and private practitioners alike. This fast-paced session highlights the issues most likely to cause sleepless nights: shifting regulatory expectations, cross-border employment and data obligations, disputes super-charged by AI, and increasingly complex governance demands from boards and investors. We will cut through the noise to identify the trends that matter, the traps to avoid, and the practical steps practitioners can take now to stay ahead-rather than firefight later. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Miriam Bruce - Mayer Brown (UK) - Employment Litigation &amp; Counseling, Employee Benefits &amp; Global Mobility lawyer</li> <li>• Anders Etgen Reitz - IUNO (Denmark) - Chairman of the Board, Partner and specialist in HR Legal and Technology &amp; Data</li> <li>• Nick Leale - CM Murray LLP (UK) - Partner, Professional Discipline and Regulation</li> <li>• Natalie A. 10.25-11.10	Breakout Sessions
	Remote Work: The Real Impact of Ignoring Compliance for Distributed Executive Teams Remote and hybrid models have outpaced many employers' compliance frameworks. This session highlights the complexity of managing globally scattered executives and teams: tax exposure across borders, compliance gaps when work happens "anywhere", and the often overlooked broader financial and HR issues that apply even in a spare bedroom. We'll outline the practical issues that HR teams and advisers must take to stay compliant, control cost, and avoid unnecessary exposure or regulatory breaches-while still supporting the flexibility senior talent now expects. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Terri Connolly - Taft (Chicago, USA) - Partner, Employment law and litigation attorney</li> <li>• Anne Davies - Richardson Lissack Limited (UK) - Partner, Business crime, health and safety regulatory investigations and prosecutions lawyer</li> <li>• James Hockin - Withers (UK) - Partner, Employment lawyer</li> <li>• Mathilde Houet-Weil - Weil et Associes (France) - Employment and labor-related litigation lawyer</li> <li>• Chair: David Yewdall - BDO (UK) - Partner, Global Employer Services</li> </ul> Sanctions, Tariffs and Directors' Liability: What Every Board Must Know Sanctions and trade measures now carry real personal risk for directors (and LLP members), yet the UK and international guidance is often sparse. This session lifts the lid

	on the practical exposures: how sanctions and tariff rules interact with executive, director and LLP member duties; what “reasonable care” looks like in supply-chain and market-entry decisions; and how boards can evidence their thinking to withstand regulatory, investor or parliamentary scrutiny. With anonymised case examples highlighting where well-run companies still trip Up, attendees will leave with a clear set of governance steps to strengthen oversight and reduce personal liability. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• John Binns - BCL Solicitors LLP (UK) - Partner and Criminal lawyer</li> <li>• Raphael Brunner - (Switzerland) - MME Legal &amp; Tax, Partner, International Commercial, Trade and Logistics Lawyer, President of the Swiss Maritime Law Association</li> <li>• Alex Haines - 4 Pump Court (UK) - Barrister</li> <li>• Todd M. 11.30-12.15	Breakout Sessions Exits in the Spotlight: Navigating Good Leavers, Equity Interests and New Employment Laws Senior executive exits can be fraught, fast-moving and highly visible. This panel looks at how to handle sensitive transitions with discretion and discipline, from retention risks and separation negotiations to disputes over “good leaver” and “good reason” provisions. We will consider the legal and tactical impact of recent UK and international legal developments and share strategic approaches to reaching outcomes that aim to protect the business, the executive and the wider leadership narrative. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Anna Birtwistle - Farrer &amp; Co (UK) – Partner, Employment and Partnership lawyer</li> <li>• David Lowe - Rudy, Exelrod, Zieff &amp; Lowe, LLP (San Franscico, USA) - Employment litigation attorney</li> <li>• Katherine Flower - Burges Salmon LLP (UK) – Partner, Employment lawyer</li> <li>• Dr. Johannes Traut - Seitz (Germany) – Partner and Co-head of seitz.digital, Employment and data protection law specialist</li> <li>• Chair: Veena Gopalakrishnan - Trilegal (India) - Partner, Labor and Employment lawyer, cross-border M&amp;A and workplace inclusion specialist</li> </ul> Cross-Border Deals: Key Employment and Regulatory Due Diligence Issues A practical look at employment, executive compensation incentive and regulatory traps in cross-border M&amp;A transactions-and how to approach due diligence on data security, GDPR and AI risks in transactions without slowing the deal. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Ming Evans - Smiths Plc (UK) - Global Employment Associate General Counsel</li> <li>• Dr. Thomas Granetzny - Freshfields (Düsseldorf, Germany) - Partner, Employment and Pension lawyer</li> <li>• Jonathan Kirsop - Pinsent Masons LLP (UK) - Partner, Data protection and technology lawyer</li> </ul>

12.15-13.00	Across the Lines: Navigating Privilege, Protocol and Culture in Cross-Border Investigations Cross-border investigations are rarely straightforward. Privilege shifts from one jurisdiction to the next, interview expectations differ, and cultural or regulatory nuances can complicate even the simplest lines of enquiry. This session addresses the practical challenges advisers face when coordinating fact-finding across borders, including in offshore centres where subtle distinctions carry real weight. Panellists will share clear, pragmatic ways to align process, protect privilege, manage reputational and regulatory exposure, and deliver a single, robust outcome that stands up in multiple legal systems. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Kato Aerts - Lydian (Belgium) - Partner, Employment lawyer</li> <li>Harry Jones - Polsinelli (Dallas, US) - International Employment &amp; Labor Law Chair</li> <li>Amy Shulman - Outten &amp; Golden (New York, USA) - Partner, Employment law attorney</li> <li>Chris Roberts - Grosvenor Law (UK) - Partner, white collar/investigations lawyer</li> <li>Chair: Marian Bloodworth - Fox Williams (UK) - Partner, Employment lawyer and Litigator</li> </ul> Preventing Sexual Harassment: Law, Leadership and the New Standards of Accountability With regulators and legislators intensifying scrutiny of workplace conduct, organisations must demonstrate stronger prevention and response to sexual harassment. The FCA's expanded approach to non-financial misconduct - including behaviour outside work - heightens the risks for regulated individuals, while ERA 2025 introduces further duties and potential consequences but also increases potential rights and remedies for affected executives. This session will explore how employers, executives and their advisers should respond to these new legal and regulatory requirements and the impact they will have in practice. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Lori L. 14.00-14.30	Afternoon Plenary Session
	IFSEA Interview - Common Ground at Work: Winning Hearts and Minds for Lasting Change How can you persuade - not polarise? A discussion with leading human rights campaigner Tiernan Brady, who led the successful equal-marriage referendum campaigns in Ireland and Australia and served as Global Director of Diversity &amp; Inclusion at Clifford Chance. Drawing on real activist campaign lessons, this discussion will explore how to turn values into everyday behaviours and how leaders can build positive social cohesion and positive change across generations in an increasingly polarised and turbulent world - and carry it beyond the workplace into wider society. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Tiernan Brady (UK) - Human rights campaigner; former Executive Director of The Equality Campaign (the Yes campaign for marriage equality in Australia); former Political Director of Yes Equality (marriage equality campaign in Ireland); former Director of Inclusion (now consultant) at Clifford Chance</li> <li>• Chair: Clare Runacres – (UK) BBC radio journalist and newsreader</li> </ul>
14.35-15.20	Breakout Sessions
	Leading on the Tightrope: The Realities of PE-Backed Leadership From board dynamics to cash discipline to talent risk: a candid discussion of what distinguishes effective portfolio executives and PE-backed professional services leaders. What capabilities matter most when running a PE backed business-balancing value creation with culture, clarity with speed, and investor demands with long term credibility. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Jenny Hodges - Aureos (UK) - General Counsel, Company Secretary and Head of Legal</li> <li>• Kristen Prinz - The Prinz Law Firm (Chicago, USA) - Founder &amp; Partner, Employment law attorney and business counsellor</li> <li>• Cecilie Søndergaard Nielsen - CN8 Leadership Confidence (UK) - Founder, Leadership advisor and Executive Coach; former HR leader and Private Equity MD</li> <li>• Adil Taha - Taha &amp; Co (UK) - Founder, Strategy Specialist &amp; Private Equity Operating Partner</li> <li>• Chair: Merrill April - CM Murray LLP (UK) - Partner, Employment and Partnership lawyer</li> </ul> Protecting the Business: Restrictive Covenants, NDAs and the Art of Commercial Resolution Restrictive covenant and confidentiality disputes rarely reach a courtroom. Most are settled in meeting rooms, not before a judge. This session explores how advisers can protect business interests in an era of threatened non-compete bans, heightened scrutiny of NDAs and increasingly cross-border enforcement challenges. The panel will focus on practical,

	commercial approaches to resolving even contentious exit-related disputes - balancing legal leverage, reputational risk, and the need for swift, workable outcomes. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Amit S. 15.20-16.05	Breakout Sessions Reputation in the Age of Misinformation In an era of deepfakes, outrage cycles and political polarisation, reputational risk can escalate before the facts are known. Business leaders are consequently becoming more withdrawn in their interactions with colleagues, less visible on social media, and more conservative in their decision making in order to prioritise self-preservation. This session explores how misinformation spreads, how allegations can be weaponised, how quickly private incidents (including “off-duty” personal issues including divorce and family and neighbour disputes) can become public crises, and what leaders can do to protect their organisations and themselves. A practical discussion on foresight, containment and limiting collateral damage. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Amy Bradbury - Harbottle &amp; Lewis LLP (UK) - Partner, Reputation management, information law and data privacy lawyer</li> <li>• Ciaran Fenton - Ciaran Fenton Limited (UK) - Leadership Consultant, Board Facilitator, and Writer</li> <li>• Nick Vamos - Peters &amp; Peters (UK) - Partner and Head of Business Crime (Barrister)</li> <li>• Tobias Vollmer - Raedas (UK) - Managing Director, corporate investigations and cross-border asset recovery specialist</li> <li>• Chair: Gus Sellitto - Byfield Reputation Counsel (UK) - Founder, litigation PR and reputation management specialist</li> </ul> Different Minds, Better Decisions: Neurodiversity in the Boardroom Board-level decisions improve when leaders stay honest with themselves and inclusive of others. This discussion will offer tools to maintain self-awareness under pressure and to support neurodivergent executives-covering communication, role clarity and adjustments- so the top team makes faster, fairer, more defensible calls. The panel will explore neurodiversity in the C-suite - how to recognise strengths, set people up to succeed and run meetings that bring out everyone’s best thinking. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Dr. Neil Bentley-Gockmann OBE - Chief Executive, The Whitehall &amp; Industry Group; Chair of the WorldSkills Global Research Council (UK)</li> <li>• David I. 16.25-17.20	Afternoon Plenary Session Memory, Perception and the Search for Truth in Executive Investigations Human memory is not a recording device - it is a story continually rewritten by bias, context and emotion. This panel will examine how advisers can navigate the psychological realities that shape witness accounts in executive-level investigations and disputes. We will explore how memory actually works (and fails), how confirmation bias creeps into interviews and decision-making, and what to do when alcohol, stress or time distort accounts. The session will explore practical interviewing methods, credibility cues, and safeguards that make findings defensible in high-stakes executive cases. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Dr. Benjamin J. 17.20-18.00	Closing Plenary Session Whose Voice Is It Anyway? The Unintended Consequences of AI (Samoan Circle Debate) As AI-generated grievances, executive statements and client enquiries become routine, advisers are increasingly confronted with high-stakes communications that don't sound anything like the person behind them. Over-polished, over-confident or simply inaccurate language can distort the issues, inflate expectations and derail judgement before any real conversation begins. This Samoan Circle debate asks how advisers should respond when the "first draft" is machine-made - and what authenticity, credibility and trust look like when AI is shaping the opening move. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Florence Brocklesby - Bellevue Law (UK) Founder and Principal, employment and commercial disputes lawyer</li> <li>• Natacha Lesellier - Flichy Grangé Avocats (Paris, France) - Partner</li> <li>• Catherine O'Flynn - Mason Hayes &amp; Curran LLP (Dublin, Ireland) - Partner, Employment and Benefits lawyer</li> </ul>
